PROJECT DESCRIPTION:

The San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency (SFMTA), in partnership with the San Francisco Office of the Controller, has approved implementation of the Transit Effectiveness Project (TEP) which represents the first holistic review of the Muni transit network and transit service delivery since the 1970s. The TEP objectives are to reduce transit travel time and improve transit customer experiences, service reliability, and transit service effectiveness and efficiency. As part of this approval, the SFMTA has approved a Service Policy Framework which sets forth transit service delivery objectives and actions to support the SFMTA Strategic Plan goals. Implementation of the TEP will be guided by the Service Policy
